

Y is for Yarn. You may know yarn as something used to make blankets, scarves, or mittens. There is another kind of yarn, though. A yarn can also mean a tall tale, which is a story that just seems too unbelievable to be true. The drawing below shows one of Schoharie County's favorite tall tales. It has been said that famous frontiersman Timothy Murphy jumped off the 600-foot high top of Vroman's Nose with two pails of milk and landed without spilling a drop!
